NATIONAL DEMOCRATS

Met This Afternoon in Louisville.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC CONVENTION.

Committed Decides Against Fusion With Republicans.

SPEECH OF JAS. C. SIMS.

Louisville, July 14.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon the National Democratic State Convention was called to order at Music Hall. Hon. James C. Sims, of Bowling Green, was chosen temporary chairman and Hon. John G. Carlisle, of Louisville, was permanent chairman. Many delegates arrived yesterday, and the gathering will be notable for the large number of old Democratic wheel-horses present. The number of delegates present is much larger than was at first expected. Already fully three hundred are present and every part and nearly every county in the state is represented.

The Hon. John G. Carlisle, Senator Lindsay, Gen. Buckner and Col. Brockbridge were the first delegates to arrive. They reached the city early in the morning. Mr. Carlisle is the guest of Mr. Henry Watterson; Senator Lindsay and Col. Brockbridge are at the Galt House, and Gen. Buckner is at the Willard. They expressed gratification at the prospect for a fine convention and a big vote in November.

Former Lieut. Governor J. R. Hindman, of Adair county, was at the Willard last night. He is a delegate and has been mentioned as a fine material for the clerkship nomination, though he is for Judge H. C. Baker, of Adair, who is a candidate, and who was with him last night. Mr. John G. Orndorff, of Russellville, who is the leading candidate, also arrived.

Judge W. H. Yost, who has been mentioned prominently as a candidate for the nomination for Appellate Clerk, said last night that under no circumstances could he accept the nomination, but he was ready to make speeches from the Big Sandy to the Purchase in behalf of the man selected by the convention.

Senator R. H. Ellison, of Grant county, who has been mentioned for the nomination, arrived this morning. He is not seeking the nomination, but his friends say he would not decline if chosen.

The committee on resolutions will be a fine body of men, thirteen in all, one being selected by each district, and two by the temporary chairman to represent the state-at-large. The keynote of the platform will be sound money and law and order.

The sentiment of the delegates is decidedly in favor of a straight fight for the nomination of the convention, without fusion.

There were many expressions of regret that the Hon. John K. Henderson, of Livingston county, will not be able to attend in his family. A delegate from Livingston who arrived in the city yesterday was telling how Mr. Henderson was first known to be with the National Democrats. He supported Mr. Bryan last fall, and it was thought that he would continue to vote with that side. Last Saturday when the county mass convention was held Mr. Henderson was seen to take a front seat. It was supposed that he had come as a spectator out of curiosity. But when the first vote was taken, he answered louder than any of the others.

"How is this?" asked one of the National Democrats present; "are you with us, John?"

"Yes," he replied; "I've had enough of affiliation with the free silver party, and I'm going to follow the old faith."

CALL TO ORDER

Speech of Temporary Chairman Sims.

Louisville, Ky., July 14.—2:45 P. M.—Convention called to order by Hon. A. J. Carroll. Hon. J. C. Sims was made temporary chairman. Not much will be done this afternoon but listen to speeches. It was decided in committee of resolutions that convention will oppose fusion.

The Hon. James C. Sims, temporary chairman, said in part:

"There was a time in Israel when the timid thought that all had given in to that dark hour preserved unto himself seven thousand who had never kissed the idol or bowed the knee to Baal. In Kentucky there are today fifty thousand true and tried Democrats who have never wandered away from the true faith, and never have in the past, and will never in the future. We have assembled here today as Democrats in the house of our fathers. We are proud of the principles of Democracy.

We are not Democrats simply for the reason that our fathers, grandfathers, were Democrats, but because we believe that the principles advocated by the genuine Democracy are best calculated to give us good government, federal, state, county and municipal.

and thereby result in the greatest good to the greatest number.

There are some things so interwoven, as it were, with the web and woof of Democracy so vital, near and dear to the Democratic heart, that they cannot be surrendered without surrendering the Democracy itself. Foremost among these are free trade and a sound currency. If these old landmarks, if these bulwarks of Democracy, which have come down to us through the century of our existence, are to remain a part of its creed, it is evident that we, who have kept the faith should stand shoulder to shoulder, and fight for them, as we never fought before.

And the advocacy of a sound currency has become cause for expulsion from the party. Thomas Jefferson said that the ratio at which gold and silver should be coined was a question of markets. Andrew Jackson made gold our standard of value. Yet strange to say, four of our silver friends in the state of Ohio, a short time since very kindly permitted the portraits of these two fathers of Democracy to hang upon the walls of their convention hall, but, at the same time, as I am informed, had the picture of Mr. Cleveland, who has always advocated the same principle, removed from the room.

Our first victory after the war was won under the leadership of Samuel J. Tilden, upon a platform which demanded 'steady steps toward a sound currency, no steps backward.' And our only other presidential victory was won under the command of that man of destiny, Grover Cleveland, upon a platform which demanded the coinage of both gold and silver at a ratio which would maintain the parity of the two metals.

But the combined forces which met at Chicago in 1896 favored the declaration of these three successful campaigns, by declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 without regard to consequences. And our only other presidential victory was won under the command of that man of destiny, Grover Cleveland, upon a platform which demanded the coinage of both gold and silver at a ratio which would maintain the parity of the two metals.

Our free silver friends seem to have lost entirely their powers of discrimination; they cannot discriminate between wealth honestly obtained and wealth dishonestly obtained. The highest recommendation that a man can possess for complete affiliation with this Populist-Democratic party is that he is a selling stone, has gathered no moss; run down at the heel; has nothing; don't want anything, and don't want anybody else to have anything. Any man other than the one just described, who claims to oppose the free and unlimited coinage of silver, has sold out body and soul to Lombard street, Wall street, banks, railroads and other corporations.

Of course, there is not even a suspicion that the silver mine owners could or would buy or subsidize anybody.

The demand of the hour is for a brave and patriotic manhood. The advocates of flat silver, in an unlucky hour, surprised and captured our party organization and brought ruin and disaster upon our party. By threats and clamor, and false promises they have damaged all values, frightened all business enterprises, paralyzed all industries, and almost brought ruin and bankruptcy upon our people.

And they have added insult to injury by charging that their innocent victims are the authors of their mischiefs.

How long is this thing to continue, how far is it to reach? Are we all craven cowards to be intimidated and bullied? Or shall we put on our armor and acquit ourselves like men? This decision cannot last. A brave, determined stand is all that is necessary to prove its fallacy and thus confound it.

DYING OF LOCKJAW.

Emma Williams, Colored, Has No Hope of Recovery.

Stuck a Splinter in Her Foot Two Weeks Ago.

Emma Williams, aged 22, is the name of a colored woman who is dying of lockjaw in a little shanty back of the Watson house, on Broadway, near Tenth. Two weeks ago she stuck a splinter in the bottom of her left foot, and although it was cut out several days ago, her jaw became set and she is now in a dying condition, with no hope, according to the doctors, of recovery.

It was reported this morning that the woman had received no medical attention, but this was a mistake, as Dr. J. G. Brooks and several others have at various times attended her. She constantly suffers great agony, and has to be held down at times to prevent her injuring herself or others.

The Committee met at the city hall, after a session at 2 o'clock and adopted a resolution authorizing the nomination of magistrates and constables for the county in the judicial primary on August 28th.

RESERVOIR GIVES WAY.

Repetition of the Johnstown Disaster in New York State.

TWENTY PEOPLE MISSING.

Terrible Flood Burst in the Kentucky Mountains.

IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 14.—The Beacon Mountain reservoir burst this morning, creating the widest spread disaster since the terrible Johnstown flood. The greatest damage was done at Dutchess Junction, where two boarding houses, brick yards, out-house and railroad shanties, were swept away like egg shells. Twenty people are missing, of which five bodies have already been recovered and three others are sighted. The property loss will be enormous, and it is feared that the number of lives lost will exceed the number now estimated.

IN KENTUCKY MOUNTAINS.

A Cloud Burst Does Swift and Terrible Damage.

Sargent, Ky., July 14.—A cloud burst in the mountains near here yesterday and caused a vast amount of damage. Houses, outbuildings, fences, hay and machinery were swept away by the terrible force of the rushing waters. George Hess, a farmer, is the only one yet known to have been killed. The family of George Webb was carried a mile down the raging torrent, but were all rescued. Crops in that valley are ruined.

Humphrey, of Louisville, representing the Central Trust Company, of New York, and Adriaan H. Jones, of New York, at the upset price of $1,000,000, cash deposit of $100,000. Judge Humphrey declined to state for what company he made the bid, but the general impression here is that it was for the Illinois Central.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

An Illinois Suit That Was Full of Great Interest.

Judge Courtney Here Today in Conference With the Defendant.

Judge J. C. Courtney, of Metropolis, Ill., was in the city today on an important mission. He was here by special appointment to meet Tyrus Vickers, a prominent and wealthy resident of New Liberty, Ill., relative to a final adjustment of the celebrated breach of promise suit brought against him sometime since at Metropolis by Miss Dora Adell Tyndall for seduction and breach of promise for $25,000 damages, and in which she was awarded $12,000.

The suit was bitterly fought by a brilliant array of legal talent on both sides, and created a big sensation at the time, finally being taken to the supreme court after the verdict rendered at Metropolis last fall.

A day or two ago the supreme court affirmed the decision of the lower court, and the judgment for $12,000 stands.

A Sex reprieve was introduced to Mr. Vickers this morning and he seemed cheerful despite his ill luck. The lawyer and his client settled the matter to the satisfaction of both, and returned to their respective homes this forenoon.

A BLACK BRUTE

Discovered in the Bed Chamber of Mr. J. O. Ross' Daughter.

ATTEMPTED TO USE CHLOROFORM

Awakened the Youngest Daughter, Who Screamed and Alarmed the Household.

LIVELY CHASE OF THE FATHER.

There was considerable excitement in Bowlandtown about 1 o'clock this morning. A murder was discovered at the residence of Mr. J. O. Ross, gate keeper of Ramoth Park, in the room occupied by his two daughters, Misses Mattie and Bertie, aged 20 and 17, respectively.

Miss Bertie, who was awakened by feeling someone touch her hand, she looked up and perceived a negro standing near the bed, with a wad of cotton in his hand, presumably saturated with chloroform.

The young lady, who was sleeping with her sister, screamed and awakened the entire family.

Mr. Ross, in an adjoining room, arose just as both daughters ran excitedly into his apartment, and briefly related the circumstances which occasioned them so much fright. He saw, when he reached the front porch, the man running rapidly down the street, plainly discerning his color in the moonlight. He gave hot pursuit, but was unable to overtake the scoundrel.

A subsequent investigation revealed the fact that the intruder had slipped up a window to the young ladies' room and crawled in. The young ladies, from the odor detected upon awakening, are certain that the drug on the cotton in the negro's hand was chloroform. His motive in entering a young lady's bed chamber at that hour of the night, with chloroform in his hand, is left to conjecture.

Mr. Ross stated this morning that it was not the first time his daughters had been disturbed, as some one after pried to break into their room a few weeks ago, but awakened them and had to flee for his life, just as the one last night did.

A QUIET WEDDING.

Mr. Lem B. Ogilvie and Miss Bettie Woolfolk Married.

The marriage of Miss Bettie Woolfolk to Mr. Lem B. Ogilvie took place at 10:30 o'clock this forenoon at the residence of the bride's mother, 721 Broadway, in the presence of only a few friends and relatives.

Rev. W. H. Pinkerton performed the ceremony, and after a bridal repast the couple left at 12:10 for St. Louis on a bridal tour of several days.

Mr. Ogilvie is one of Paducah's best and most highly respected business men, and his bride is known as a most beautiful and accomplished young lady, both having legions of friends to extend congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Ogilvie will reside in Paducah.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.
Dr. J. T. Reddick has been a resident of Paducah for seven and one-half years. He has seen, since his advent here, many improvements, and as an evidence of the progress for seven years, he has compiled a list of residences and manufactures that have been built or established since he came here, seven years ago, which is a comparatively brief period and shows how Paducah is growing.
The buildings are:
Palmer House, Wells building, Fels, Campbell, Hummel, Hecht, Newport & Lybette, Ellis & Rudy, McNary, Standard, American-German National Bank, Noble-Crawley, J. R. Smith, Third and Clark, Yarnall, Dr. Hall, Dr. Glass & Queensware Co., Murrell and Leach buildings.
Residences—Dr. Brooks, Fels, Frank Scott, Wallerstein, Abe Wall, W. E. Cochran, and many others.
Churches—First Christian, Second Christian, Cumberland Presbyterian, Second Presbyterian, Broadway M. E., Third street M. E., Tremble street M. E., Mizpah German Evangelical and Second Baptist.
Schools—First and Sixth ward buildings.
Among the new industries are: Rignberger's mill, Victoria mills, Little's spoke factory, Kilgore's, Clements Bros., brick works, Bieker's new factory, H. H. H. Shoe Co., Ford's Leather Tobacco works, Dixie Shirts works, stock yards, several new tobacco retreating houses, and electric street cars, including the entire People's line.
Among the railroad improvements are: The N. C. & St. L. railroad, the I. C. railroad hospital, inauguration of sleepers on the C. O. & S. W. and increase in shops.
Several new newspapers have been started during that time, among which are the Sun, Register, Sunday Visitor, "The Dispatch" (now defunct) and "Moon" (ditto). Other improvements are: New bridges over Island Creek, several miles of new streets, the Postal Telegraph Company, big increase in telephone facilities, Electric power houses and electric lighting plants, La Belle and Raimond Parks, new fair grounds, several new wholesale whiskey houses, dry docks, the use of pneumatic safety bicycles, pneumatic wheel vehicles, and the commencement of a sewerage system.
There are likely many things the doctor missed, but the above at least shows that Paducah is by no means dead, but is growing with a rapidity that rivals Jack's celebrated bean stalk.

Local physicians report a great decrease in sickness. Several have been today and yesterday, and all complained of prevailing good health. One said there was less sickness now than he ever knew for this season of the year, and he has been here a long time. The only time the doctors have been busy lately was during the recent heat spell, when the cases were just of temporary illness resulting from excessive heat.

Local physicians report a great decrease in sickness. Several have been today and yesterday, and all complained of prevailing good health. One said there was less sickness now than he ever knew for this season of the year, and he has been here a long time. ARM WRENCHED OFF.

Terrible Accident That Cost Eugene Parkinson His Life.
Mangled in a Slave Mill and Brought Here Today.

Eugene Parkinson, of Trenton, Tenn., a foreman at the Standard Oil company's slave factory at Cumminsville, on the N. C. & St. L. R. R., seven miles below Paducah, died at 10 o'clock last night at the Boyd-White Infirmary from shock. Injuries received late yesterday afternoon at the factory.

While adjusting the machinery, Parkinson's left hand was caught in a pulley belt that runs the heavy wheel and in a second twisted off above the wrist. His shirt clung to the machinery and his arm was twisted off again at the shoulder. The violence of the shock twisted him against the shaft, and as learned up a thorough surgical examination afterwards, injured his lungs, bowels, and broke three or four ribs.

Strange to relate, when the unfortunate young man finally became extracted, he was not even unconscious, at arose and started to walk to his boarding house. On the way, he met his aged mother, who had just arrived from Trenton on a visit to him. The scene was very affecting. He did not seem to suffer much, and shortly after blood flowed from the wounds, although the arteries and muscles were all torn out. He was brought to the city, accompanied by his mother, on the 6:30 o'clock train and taken to the Boyd-White Infirmary.

Dissection occurred at 10 o'clock. The deceased was 27 years old, had been in the Standard Oil Company's employ for six months. His mother, who is afflicted, intended to come to Paducah for treatment.

Relatives of the young man are expected from Trenton this afternoon, and until then it will not be decided whether the remains will be carried away or not. His mother is still here, but was not present last night at his death.

Manager H. J. Poppe, Casino Theater.

Believing that "The Gypsy Queen," which your company has so creditably played during the week, is one of the best yet produced, we beg you to continue it during the remainder of the week, knowing that there are yet many who have not had the opportunity to see it, and many others who want to see it again. The mechanical effects are elaborate and new, and going so much more smoothly now, as they are bound to do, than the first part of the week, we believe the price ought to be given the benefit of it. Hoping you will comply, we are,

WEDDINGS.

Two Licenses Were Issued This Afternoon.

Era Rose, a well known young motorman on the Paducah Street Railroad, and Miss Ida Gammon, both of the city, will be married tonight.

Mr. W. L. Seaberry and Miss J. J. Darnell, well known young people of Princeton, arrived in the city at noon and were licensed to marry shortly afterward. The ceremony will be performed some time during the afternoon.

John Heath, a Cumberland river raftman, came to the city on the Butterfield with his right arm broken above the wrist.

Heath is about 35 years of age, and came down the Cumberland river yesterday with a big raft of logs.

This morning just below Nashville he fell on the slippery logs and broke his arm. Going to Nashville he had a temporary dressing put on, and then he arrived at the Butterfield for Paducah. It will be disabled for several weeks.

The treasury gold reserve is steadily moving upward owing to the cessation, for the time, in gold exportation. It is now in excess of $142,000,000. Perhaps the $115,000,000 mark, which was passed just before the gold outflow started in the closing days of April, may not be touched in the next three or four weeks, but it is well to bear in mind that the reserve is much higher now than it was in July of any previous year since 1890.

Improval sanitation, including clean streets, has raised the mortality rate in New York from 27.15 per thousand in 1891 to 19.73 in 1897. The rate in London has been reduced to 17.25 by similar measures covering a longer period.

Fifteen four workers are on a strike at Fulton.
